Dear user,

Thank you for your inquiry and your interest in JetBrains products.

ComponentSource is an authorized JetBrains distributor, as listed on our official reseller page: <https://www.jetbrains.com/company/resellers/>. ComponentSource is authorized to sell JetBrains licenses internationally, including to customers in Brazil.

Licenses purchased through ComponentSource or any authorized JetBrains reseller or distributor are fully valid, original, and eligible for official JetBrains support. All licenses are delivered digitally and managed via the JetBrains Account system.

JetBrains does not grant exclusive deal registration or commercial arrangements that would provide a competitive advantage to any specific reseller in public procurement processes. All authorized resellers are listed publicly, and procurement can be conducted through any of them.

For official compliance, security, and vendor assessment documentation required in public procurement processes, please refer to the JetBrains Trust Center: <https://trust-center.jetbrains.com/>. All relevant documents and certifications are available there.

If you require a formal letter of authorization, please request it directly from ComponentSource.

You can find the full list of authorized JetBrains resellers here: <https://www.jetbrains.com/company/resellers/>

If you have any further questions or need additional assistance, please feel free to reply to this email.

Dear Sir or Madam,

I hope this message finds you well.

I am writing on behalf of a Brazilian public administration entity currently conducting a procurement process for the acquisition of software licenses of IntelliJ.

In order to ensure compliance with public procurement regulations, as well as adherence to the principles of legality, competitiveness, and selection of the most advantageous proposal, we kindly request your support in clarifying the following points related to the commercial chain involved in the supply of your product:

1. Whether the company ComponentSource is an authorized distributor of JetBrains products;
2. Whether ComponentSource is authorized to commercialize JetBrains licenses for customers located in Brazil;
3. Whether licenses supplied through this distribution chain (ComponentSource → reseller) are fully valid, original, and eligible for official support from JetBrains;
4. Whether there is any “deal registration” (opportunity registration) or exclusive commercial arrangement currently associated with this procurement, which could grant competitive advantage to a specific reseller.

Thank you in advance for your attention and cooperation.

Kind regards,
Gicélia
